Need Big Force To Drive Turks Out Of Europe

Paris, France, March 29.—It was said at the foreign office today that the French point of view regarding Turkey and Armenia is in agreement with that of president Wilson as to the desirability of the largest possible Armenian state and the expulsion of the Turks from Constantinople.
The question is raised, however, as to how these ends can be achieved without the force necessary to deal with the trouble certain to result among the Mussulman population.

President Wilson's note on the Turkish question was delivered to premier Millerand in Paris yesterday.
It would require a force of several hundred thousand men to lock up a decision to eject the Turks entirely from Europe, a high official said.
The establishment of an Armenian state of large dimensions also would involve the necessity of a military force to protect it, as in a great portion of the territory the Armenians would be in the minority and exposed to the hatred of their enemies.
This official added that the French had been considering the great in-humanitarian task for president Wilson to perform. The question was whether he was ready to furnish the required force.

GERMANY ASSURES ALLIES TREATY WILL BE OBSERVED

Paris, France, March 29.—Assurance has been given by the German government that it will not send into the Ruhr valley more regular troops than are allowed by the terms of the treaty.
Receiving members of the French press last evening, premier Miller-land declared that the German government was determined to observe the terms of the treaty by sending a strong armed force into the Ruhr district, France would occupy part of the neutral zone, whether the allies agreed or not.

GEN. HARTS WILL ANSWER CHARGE OF ARMY CRUELITIES

mander of American troops in the Paris area after the armistice, arrived from France today. He is expected to answer charges of other for cruelties to soldiers in prison camps.

SOLDIERS TO BE GIVEN FREE LAUNDRY SERVICE

Beginning April 1 soldiers at Fort Bliss will be given free laundry service, according to a recent order of the war department. In view of the fact that the army has no laundry in with some private concern to handle the laundry of the soldiers at Fort Bliss, Camp Chicago, Camp Dierna, Camp Church, Camp

Fort Bliss, Camp Nevada, D. Baker, El Paso, Fabens, Fort Hancock, Ya-

TORPEDOED U.S. TRANSPORT NOT WELL GUARDED

Escort of "Antilles" Weakened As Yacht Quits Convoy Night Before.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29.— The escort of the convoy which included the transport Antilles had been weakened the night before that vessel was sunk by the return to Brest of one of the American yachts on account of a heavy sea, rear admiral William B. Fletcher testified today before the naval board investigating the removal from the fleet command by rear admiral Sims after the Antilles was torpedoed in October, 1917.

The escorting yacht Kanawha left the convoy on the night of October 16 because of the rough weather, admiral Fletcher testified, leaving the Antilles and two other transports with only two yachts as an escort. The Antilles was sunk about dawn the next morning.

Admiral Fletcher previously had testified that operations of his escort forces, composed entirely of converted yachts up to that time, had been seriously handicapped on several occasions by rough weather, which destroyed, he said, could have faced without trouble.

The Atlantic fleet never was better prepared for war than when it came from Cuban waters in March, 1917, after its winter battle practice, rear admiral Henry T. Mayo, former commander-in-chief of the fleet, today told the senate committee investigating the navy's conduct of the war.

The personnel was on a peacetime basis and was somewhat out of condition for war service in April, 1917, rear admiral A. W. Grant, then commander of the submarine force, told the committee.

Fleet's Efficiency Lowered.
Disposal of ships of the Atlantic fleet along the coast of Central America in 1913 and 1914 to protect American interests there had a "very detrimental effect" on its efficiency, admiral Mayo said. The outbreak of war in Europe called attention to the "unsatisfactory condition" of his command, he said, and he immediately began to whip his forces into shape. The result was reflected, he added, in the splendid condition of the fleet in the spring of 1917.

On February 3, 1917, admiral Mayo received instructions to take precautions for the safeguarding of the fleet in view of the strained relations with Germany. A few hours later orders for the defense of the fleet, were placed in effect, he said.

The return of the fleet to northern waters, a patrol force of cruisers and smaller vessels was organized and he was informed that this force would be directed by the department.

It was the start of what the commander-in-chief believed to be a false policy, said admiral Mayo.
"I am in control of active operations of subordinate forces by the department."

The view of my presence in the area of operations to be covered by the patrol force, the mission in my opinion should have been assigned to me.

SAVINGS

Being Able to Buy Your Easter Suit at Considerably Less Than You Had Expected

Four Days Only

BEGINNING today and continuing until Friday evening, we will offer every three-piece spring weight suit in stock at substantial savings to customers.

Why We Do This

It is unheard of to offer reductions just before Easter. However, the lateness of the season and continued cold weather gives us too large a stock of spring suits.
Then, too, we want to relieve congestion on the last day before Easter—Saturday.

In past seasons our usual satisfactory service in the Men's Clothing Department has been affected by having to call in outside tailors to make necessary alterations.

A Saving to You-- A Saving to Us

This is really a cooperative proposition. We offer these reductions to induce you to buy your Easter suits the next four days. In doing this we are enabled to maintain a highly satisfactory service by making alterations where needed under the direction of our own tailoring department. At the same time, we are able to reduce our stock to a point where it would have been had weather conditions been favorable.

Some of The Reductions

The following reductions will give you an idea of the savings. But to fully appreciate the offer, you should come and see the unsurpassed stock of spring clothes of which they are made.
